

Season 4 Episode 1

Three Peas in a Pod

Jason is at a street market on a bright and sunny San Francisco street. Some shady old lady has a sign on her market stand that says she is selling, "Clone Pods." Jason goes to the old lady and Jason said, "What are Clone Pods?" The shady old lady said, "These are pods that are planted into the ground. They are essentially seeds that have a pod portion of them." The old lady shows the empty pod to Jason. The old lady said, "You place DNA samples from a host in them and you water them according to the instructions and in a few weeks, a clone of that person will grow in the soil." Jason said, "That sounds cool. Does it actually work?" The old lady said, "It will work if you follow the instructions properly." Jason said, "This still sounds like a scam but, what the hell. I will take some." Jason buys a bag of Clone Pods from the old lady.

Jason walks home with the bag of pods and he sees his neighborhood is being closed off by construction workers. A squadron of helicopters fly overhead and they are holding a large round barrier with their cables. They drop the barrier and it is about to fall on Jason. Jason runs to his house before the barrier crushes him. More construction people come by. Jason walks into his house and Mason is there. Jason said, "What is going on outside?" Mason said, "I am asking the same question. I think our answer is on the VHS tape that was slipped in everyone's mail slot."

Jason and Mason watch the VHS tape and they see an image of the thick built and broad chined on a rectangular headed, curved haired businessman named, Ulysses Tuiner." Jason and Mason said, "Ulysses Tuiner?" Tuiner appears on the screen and he said, "Hello. I am Ulysses Tuiner. Most of you know me as the owner of the world's largest multimedia conglomerate, simply called Tuiner. My grandfather has breathed a lot of life into this company by giving it such iconic animated adaptations of fairy tales such as Jack and the Bean Stock, and Snide White and the Seven Munchkins. For several decades my company has produced quality animated films and animated TV productions enjoyed by kids and people all over the world. I am honored to be opening up the first Tuiner theme park resort. It will be opened in the convenient residential neighborhood of San Francisco. To people that have this tape, I am giving you a lifetime offer. I will give you a grand sum of money to buy your property so I can build my new resort in this community. It will be very good for the other neighborhood's close by and you will be considered to be a part of theme park resort history. This park will have everything from rides, to games, to entertainment, and more. Tuiner Resort will be the new resort that everyone will have on their list of things to do in San Francisco." The screen shows more footage of what the final park is going to look like. Mason shuts off the TV and he said, "What a rip off." Jason said, "Our father is still jealous and butthurt of what we achieved and he wants it for himself." Mason said, "That's exactly what he wants and that is exactly what he is not going to get." Jason said, "I remember all those countless times he tried to steal your inventions when we were kids over the years." Mason said, "And the time he tried to use a bizarre loophole to obtain ownership over us and our mother." Jason and Mason get flashbacks of their biological father, Tuiner doing all those things to them. The doorbell rings.

Jason and Mason answer the door and Tuiner is at the door. Tuiner said, "So. What do you think of my offer?" Jason said, "Beat it." Mason said, "You may be our father but you don't own us. You tried to scam our family several times before but you failed then and you are going to fail again." Tuiner said, "Suit yourself. I already have offers from all of the property owners in this neighborhood and they all agreed to sell their properties. Your house is going to be awkwardly placed in the middle of a theme park."

Jason is in his bedroom and he watches construction machines working on the resort. Jason gets a pot filled with dirt and he gets the clone pods. Jason takes out a container that reads, "DNA Samples" on it. Jason said, "I am glad Mason is more trusting of me now so he doesn't keep a lock on his DNA collection." Jason takes a DNA sample from a container that reads, "Jason's DNA." Jason takes the DNA and places it in the pod and plants it in the pot. Jason also takes from containers that read, "Mason's DNA" and, "Captain Fusion's DNA." Jason plants all the DNA samples into the pods and he waters them and places them on top of a shelf where they get direct light from the sun outside.

The next day, Jason and Mason leave their house and they see their property is all fenced up and it is completely surrounded by the new resort. There is a large TV on a slightly tall building and Tuiner appears on the TV. Tuiner said, "The new Tuiner Resort is now officially opened to the public. Just ignore those backwards people that refused to sell their property." Party music plays everywhere and people flood into the resort and they go on rides and attractions. Jason and Mason see that the resort surrounds their entire house. Jason said, "How are we going to get food and things?" Tuiner walks to the fence and he said, "You won't. You will just have to cut across my resort and it costs $600 per person to enter each time." Jason and Mason's eyes go big. Jason said, "We have a right to go to the outside world." Tuiner said, "You do but rights are not always free. This can all be avoided if you sell your property and everything you own to me.”

Jason and Mason are in Mason’s lab and Captain Fusion is on the video communicator screen. Captain Fusion said, “This is quite preposterous. How could this Tuiner guy buy out all the property around you and have you marooned in your own house. I will need to find some dirt on this guy. For now, I will use the Fusion Wing to fly to your house and deliver some goods to you.” The video signals are transmitted through cable wires in the ground and they connect to the same cable network the Tuiner resort uses. The signals are transmitted to a TV in Tuiner’s office. Tuiner is in his office at the top of the main central building in the resort. He watches the footage of the communications Jason and Mason have with Captain Fusion. Tuiner said, “It looks like they are getting a middleman to send them food. I will not have that happen.”

Captain Fusion flies in the Fusion Wing and it is loaded with groceries and supplies. Captain Fusion flies over the barrier between the Tuiner Resort and the outside world. Security turrets spot Captain Fusion. Security turrets activate homing missile launchers and it blasts volleys of missiles at the Fusion Wing. Captain Fusion makes the Fusion Wing spin and maneuver around the missiles and he makes them crash and explode into each other. More attractions in the resort begin to activate plasma cannons and more missile launchers. They begin rapidly firing at Captain Fusion. Captain Fusion puts the Fusion Wing into full throttle and he zips away from the defenses. He sees Jason and Mason’s house and Mason’s lab out in the far-off distance. Captain Fusion speeds over there and one of the attractions activates a robot arm with a white glove on the end and it takes out a clear bulletproof sheet of glass. It flies out fast and the Fusion Wing crashes into it. The Fusion Wing gets destroyed and it falls to the ground in the Tuiner Resort. Captain Fusion is in the destroyed Fusion Wing and he grabs hold of the groceries and goods. Captain Fusion eyes Jason and Mason’s house. Captain Fusion gets out of the Fusion Wing gripping onto the goods. Captain Fusion runs for Jason and Mason’s house and the Resort guards that look like fantasy characters from old Tuiner movies come after Captain Fusion. They gang on Captain Fusion and they beat up him up. Captain Fusion punches one of the fantasy guards in the head and he smacks down another one. Captain Fusion grabs onto two of their heads and he smashes them into each other. They grab onto the goods and they destroy them right there in front of Captain Fusion. They take out stun weapons that look like laser swords and they beat up Captain Fusion with them. Jason and Mason are on their property and they watch Captain Fusion get beat up by the fantasy guards. Jason said, “So much for Captain Fusion being our supplier.” Mason said, “This means we have no real ways for outsiders to get to us.” Jason said, “We still have my friends, Pamela, and El Dorro.” Mason said, “If Captain Fusion can’t get past the resort’s defenses, then I don’t think any of your friends could.”

Captain Fusion is placed in a prison contraption where his hands and feet are locked up in hard metal spheres. Tuiner stands over Captain Fusion and Tuiner said, "I need to know more. What is your great plan to take down my resort?" Captain Fusion said, "I never planned on taking down your resort. I only flew over the resort to land on Jason and Mason's property to deliver goods since you won't let them leave without paying a hefty price." Tuiner said, "I watched your communication. I know something more is up. I know my twins better than they know themselves. I know they will plan something."

Jason and Mason are in their eating room surrounded by empty paste cans and they are eating edible emergency paste. Mason said, "We have been stuck here for weeks now eating nothing but emergency paste. Captain Fusion is our most powerful friend and Tuiner defeated him. What more can we do?" Jason gets a devilish look on his face and Jason said, "I know there is a way to take down Tuiner."

Jason waters his clone pods some more and he sees they are beginning to sprout. Jason cares for the plants and in a few days' time, the plants grow into fully functional clones of Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion. Jason watches the clones sprout into their fully developed selves right in front of him. The clones of Jason and Mason look at each other and Captain Fusion gives a stern look to them and the original Jason. Jason said, "You are all clones. You were grown from that pot of dirt from pods." Clone Mason said, "How did I end up in the dirt? I remember working in my lab and graduating from the Gruzzard Institute." Jason said, "I guess all of your memories must have been cloned too." Clone Captain Fusion said, "I know Jason well and I know the only reason he would ever make clones of us is if he is in a dire situation that could only be resolved by clones of us." Jason said, "Exactly. I created you clones because our biological father, Ulysses Tuiner has constructed an entire entertainment resort around our property and he has cut us off from the outside world. The only way we can get back to the outside world is if we bend to his whims or... create clones of us to penetrate his fortress."

Jason shows the clones a computer screen in Mason's lab showing a map of the Tuiner resort. Jason said, "The center building is Tuiner's main office. He kidnapped the original Captain Fusion and I bet that is where he is keeping him." The original Mason walks to the clones and his eyes go big. Mason said, "What is the meaning of this?" Jason said, "These are clones. I made them from those pod seeds I bought. I think we can use these clones to penetrate Tuiner's office and rescue Captain Fusion." Mason said, "I guess that could work. We don't really have any other options now since we are running low on food." Clone Jason said, "How are we going to get to Tuiner's Office?” Clone Mason said, “It likely has a heavily fortified security system.” Mason said, “There must be some kind of exhaust vent on the building that can be used to enter. Surely the entire thing cannot be shielded.” Clone Jason said, “And how will we get there? We would have to walk there and we would get caught.” Jason said, “I have an idea.”

Jason digs through his closet and he pulls out, T-JAY and brings T-JAY to Mason’s lab. Jason turns on T-JAY. T-JAY said, “What do you want me to do, Jason?” Jason said, “I need you to fly these three people to a vent on that office building. Do you think you can do that?” T-JAY said, “I am not sure. I may struggle with lifting weights and...” All the clones and originals give T-JAY a stern look. T-JAY said, “I guess failure is not an option and I don’t have a choice.” Jason said, “You do not have a choice. This will also be a way to see if that new connector wire arm I gave you works. Go there now. Be prepared for anything.”

T-JAY struggles to hover over the resort while the clones of Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion are grabbed onto him. T-JAY floats to the office building in the center. Clone Jason said, “Now to find an opening.” Clone Mason spots a vent and he said, “I see a vent.” T-JAY heads for the vent and he enters. The clones of Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion, with T-JAY crawl through the vent. Tuiner is with a large giant from a classic Tuiner movie and he is with a wizard from an old short film. Tuiner said, “So, the two of you are now going to be in charge of enforcing order in this resort. You will...” They hear sounds of people crawling in the vent. Tuiner gives the vent a stern look and he takes out a gun and he shoots the end of the vent and it breaks and the clones of Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion, with T-JAY roll out of the vent. Tuiner said, “Ah, Jason and Mason. It looks like you finally came to your senses. I suppose you either want to pay my admission or finally sell your property and... how did you rescue Captain Fusion?” Clone Jason said, “We are better than you think.” Tuiner said, “You must reconsider. You don’t have to take anything from me and I don’t have to take anything from you. But I do have to enforce my rules and no one other than me or my authorized people are allowed in my office.” Tuiner waves his arms and the wizard and the giant go to fight the clones and T-JAY.

The wizard casts magical spells and Jason and Mason dodge the magic. Captain Fusion fights the wizard. Captain Fusion tries to smack the wizard and the wizard blocks the attacks with his scepter. The wizard casts a spell and Captain Fusion goes flying to the door. The giant picks up Jason and Mason. The giant said, “Ever wonder what it feels like when cartoon characters get squished? Now you will know.” T-JAY zips to the giant and he takes out a new shock weapon he is equipped with and he zaps the giant. The giant drops Jason and Mason and he falls over and crushes the bottom half of Captain Fusion and he breaks the door and the wall around the door.

Jason and Mason try to get Captain Fusion out from under the giant. Captain Fusion points to the wizard and he said, "The wizard is..." The wizard zaps a magical spell and Jason and Mason run out of the way. The spell hits Captain Fusion and he is turned to dust. Jason said, "Captain Fusion!" Mason grabs onto Jason's arm and he said, "We must run out of here." Jason, Mason, and T-JAY run out of Tuiner's office.

Jason, Mason, and T-JAY run down a hall and they find a door with a sign that reads, "Control Room." T-JAY takes out his connector and he takes out a jagged piece of metal and he uses it to break the lock. Jason, Mason, and T-JAY enter the control room. Jason and Mason look over the controls. Mason said, "There must be some way we can find where the original Captain Fusion is." Jason said, "There must be an off switch for the entire resort here too." Jason and Mason look over controls and the door is blasted open. Silver armored medieval looking guards with bow and arrows enter the control room. They open fire on Jason and Mason. They blast T-JAY in the screen and an arrow gets stuck in his screen which cracks and T-JAY's screen turns to static and he falls to the floor. The guards overtake Jason and Mason and they handcuff them.

Jason and Mason are brought to Tuiner's office. Tuiner said, "Look, Jason and Mason. You are my sons. Sons should never have to fight against their father. I think you two need more of a positive roll model in your lives. You won't get far in life if you only learn things from that Captain Fusion guy you hang out with. You need to be with someone that has more knowledge of things that are actually meaningful. I run an entertainment company that produces revenue of millions of dollars every quarter. I am giving you an offer that no one else would ever get. There are people that would swim in oceans of thumbtacks to be where you are standing now. What do you say?" Jason said, "Screw you." Mason said, "We don't need to be dirty businesspeople because our father is." Tuiner said, "Ok. Suit yourself then." Jason and Mason are sent to a prison detainment area where all kinds of characters from Tuiner movies are there.

Jason said, "I know you guys. Weren't you in..." One of the prisoners is a munchkin and he said, "I was one of the stars of Tuiner's first animated movie. I wanted more rights like the ones he gives to his newer stars and now I ended up here." Some guy with a top hat and is well dressed said, "I have more brains than any modern biology teacher and I found flaws in Tuiner's plans. I told him about the flaws and he locked me up here." Mason said, "It looks like everyone's favorite Tuiner hero characters are locked up here."

T-JAY is still lying in the control room. His screen turns back on and he comes back to life. He uses his single hand on a wire and he removes the arrow from his screen. T-JAY looks over the computer and he said, "I bet I can connect to it." T-JAY connects his connector into the computer and he accesses data. T-JAY views all of the payment data for all the employees and he views where all the prisoners are locked up. T-JAY also finds the controls to the power for the defense systems and how to change the channel on the large TV outside.

Resort workers go about their work and the TV changes and it shows how much each employee is getting paid. T-JAY emulates a voice that says, "Employee of ID# 38938 is getting a 60% pay deduction this month." That employee sees this on the screen and he said, "What gives?" T-JAY shows another employee and he said, "Employee ID# 34323 is not receiving any benefits listed in employee contract." That employee said, "I have a score to settle with Tuiner." T-JAY changes the channel on the TV again and it shows security footage of Jason, Mason, and all those classic Tuiner characters being locked up in a dirty old prison. T-JAY said, "This is what happens to people that bad mouth Tuiner." T-JAY shuts off all the security systems to the office. The security doors to the prison open and Jason, Mason, and everyone else run out. Tuiner's armored guards get pummeled by the classic movie characters. The classic movie characters storm out of the office. Employees begin to leave the resort. Tuiner sees them leave and he has a stern look and he looks at Jason and Mason. Tuiner said, "You! This was all your doing." Jason said, "Well, actually... Run!" Jason and Mason run back to their property and the original Jason and Mason are on the property. Tuiner sees the originals and the clones and Tuiner said, "How is this possible? How are there two of you?" Captain Fusion is behind Tuiner and he said, "Oh, but it is possible." Tuiner said, "I thought you were dead." Captain Fusion said, "Think again." Classic movie characters run from behind Captain Fusion and they trample on Tuiner.

DDD News comes on Jason and Mason's TV and George Ferrier is on the screen. George Ferrier said, "I am George Ferrier of DDD News. There was a major work stoppage at the newly constructed Tuiner Resort as employees found out that the current owner of the Tuiner company had been imprisoning classic movie characters as well as giving his current employees unfair benefits. The Tuiner resort does not have enough employees to operate now and no one wants to work there now so the resort will be closing." Jason and Mason and their clones and Captain Fusion are watching this on TV. Clone Jason said, "What's going to become of us?" Jason said, "I am sure you can serve us in the future." Clone Mason said, "Where will we live?" Captain Fusion said, "I can try to find a suitable accommodation for the two of you. I do think you have more valuable purposes to serve for Jason and Mason."
